Rome Awaits With Eager Expectation March Of Conquerors

NEW PREMIER TAKES OFFICE

Leader's Appearance Before King Demanding New Government Is Dramatic

By Associated Press
Rome—Rome awaited with eager expectation Tuesday the formal entry into the city of thousands of the Fascisti who were called from all parts of the country over the weekend in support of the Fascisti demand for control of the country.

This demand now satisfied with the call to power of their leader, Benito Mussolini who Monday formed a cabinet in which the Fascisti influence strongly predominates, the new government was ready to take full control and its Fascisti supporters from all Italy prepared to celebrate their triumph by a procession through the city.

PARADE IN RAIN
The Fascisti celebrated their triumph informally by night parades undisturbed by frequent heavy showers.

These demonstrations and others which had occurred through the day Monday led to sporadic disorders in some quarters during which there was considerable shooting with a number of fatalities, a total of 12 deaths being reported.

The composition of the Mussolini cabinet and the chances it will have for commanding a majority in parliament continue to be discussed animatedly. Premier Mussolini apparently counts strongly on the fact that his government is a coalition one and that it thus may obtain carrying power in the chamber.

Accounts of Mussolini's appearance before King Victor Emanuel Monday morning went to consult over the formation of the cabinet are bringing out some picturesque details. Mussolini was wearing his Fascisti uniform and his first words to the King were:

"I must apologize for coming before your majesty in my black shirt."

GOES TO WORK
Mussolini was in his office at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning to begin his active work as premier. An hour later he and his colleagues in the cabinet were received by King Victor Emanuel, and individually took the oath of office.

The Fascisti high command Tuesday ordered the demobilization of the Fascisti and the numerous members of that organization in Rome will leave for home after their patriotic procession which it has been decided to hold Tuesday.

LONDON CITIZENS VOTE WEDNESDAY

London—The liveliest political campaign London has known in many years will come to an end Tuesday and Wednesday. Several million men and women living in the city will have an opportunity to vote at the municipal elections. They must select holders of 1,362 seats in the 28 borough councils which constitute the local government of London.

Among other things this local government controls the expenditures of the taxpayer's money and because the boroughs now ruled by the Socialist party are at an average of about 80 per cent above those fixed in the other boroughs the campaign fight is particularly bitter.

SNEAK THIEF INVADERS HOMES AT OSHKOSH

Oshkosh, Wis.—Entering the home of Carl Magnusen on Scott street while Mrs. Magnusen was busy in the basement operating a washing machine, a thief rifled two pocketbooks and an iron box securing money to the amount of about $100 and a wrist watch valued at about $50. The visit was made in broad day light and neighbors say they saw a touring car parked in front of the house at about the time the robbery is supposed to have been perpetrated. The iron box was forced open with a screwdriver and was then hidden under the bed clothes in an upstairs room. It is believed the thief is the same one who ransacked the home of H. W. Jefferson, vice president of the Puller Goodman Lumber company, Monday, stealing $17 and jewelry, including a diamond ring.

BOLT KILLS BOY, JARS MEN, RUINS FURNITURE

Prentice, Wis.—Gust Gustafson, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gustafson, living near here, was instantly killed when lightning struck the Gustafson farm home. The house was equipped with lightning rods but the bolt came down the rods on the main house and jumped from that through the kitchen wall, striking the boy and smashing virtually every piece of furniture in the room. Two men who were in the room at the time were also slightly injured. The bolt finally grounded in the wall.

MARYLAND TO DUST FRANCE, SAYS WRITER

Lawrence Thinks Democrats Will Overthrow Friend Of Soviets

By David Lawrence
Copyright, 1922, by the Post Pub. Co., Baltimore — Maryland is another one of those states where the outcome of the election for United States senator will have about as much party significance as the result in Iowa or Wisconsin. The Republican nominee here, Senator Joseph Irwin France, is no more representative of the Republican party as a whole than is Brookhart in Iowa or La Follette in Wisconsin.

Fortunately for the opposition to Mr. France this is a normally Democratic state and about the only way for a Republican ever to triumph is to assure himself of a solid Republican support and a divided Democracy. This year it's just the other way around. W. Cabell Bruce has the wholehearted Democratic support and will receive thousands of votes from regular Republicans who cannot bring themselves to support Mr. France because of his radicalism.

PREDICTS BRUCE WILL WIN
Mr. Bruce should therefore win without difficulty. The size of his majority, however, depends largely on how many Democratic radical votes he will take from Mr. France. Senator France is making an unusual campaign. He is flooding the state with literature most of which is sent out from Washington under his free mailing privilege as a United States senator. Tons and tons of government books and pamphlets and circulars on cooking and what not are being sent by mail to the individual voters. Mr. France is counting a good deal on the effect of this kind of salesmanship. But for the most part he is confident that the state's vote will help him.

BRUCE ALSO WET
The Democratic strength has always been its wetness. Mr. Bruce who is by no means bone dry should be able, however, to retain the wet vote of the Democratic party despite Mr. France's championship of the wet cause. Senator France is said to believe that this is merely his preliminary fight and that some day he is destined to make the race for the presidency on the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

So far as party lines go, there is no such thing in the campaign of Senator France. He favors about everything that any group of voters, foreign born or American born seem to want. His friendship for Britain is naturally held against him by the conservatives.

There is incidentally a reaction here against the Harding administration. The president swept this state by more than 50,000. Last year the Democrats turned the tidal wave the other way and won nearly four-fifths of the legislature. If the vote for Mr. Bruce should be higher than 10,000 it will be unquestioned evidence also of a change in mind on the part of many Democrats who made a 1920 excursion into the Republican party.

MINISTER LEADS TRIAL WITH PRAYER

Accused Of Murdering Wife And Mother-In-Law—Blames Modern Dress

By Associated Press
Statesboro, Ga.—When the Rev. Elliott Padrick, on trial for the alleged murder of his wife and her mother, Mrs. M. B. Dixon, took the stand in his own behalf here Tuesday, his first act was to lead the court room in prayer, after which he proceeded to deliver a sermon on the text "thou shalt not" which probably was the most dramatic defense statement ever offered in a court room in this state.

In his prayer Padrick asked for divine guidance for the court, the future of the church and the people of Statesboro.

He then turned to the jury and delivered a short sermon, singled out his father-in-law, the father of his dead bride, pointed his finger at him and declared:

"You are responsible for me marrying your daughter."

He told the jury that Mr. Dixon had insisted upon the wedding.

He declared the women of today were causing the downfall of man, enticing them by their daily dress, and playing to them through sex appeal. He said it was difficult for a young minister to enter the gospel because of the temptation of modern women.

FATHER VAUGHAN, FAMOUS JESUIT PRIEST, DIES

"Marrying 'Bill' For Love," Former Kaiser's Bride Says

London — Princess Hermine of Reuss thinks her fiancé, the former German Kaiser, is one of the most generous, kind hearted men that ever lived and she is sure that she is going to be the happiest woman in the world after their marriage next Sunday. That, at least, is what she told the correspondent of the Daily Express Tuesday.

"I know I love the kaiser," she said. "Surely he is not so rich that it can be said I am marrying him for his money."

The Princess said that a lot of other women were anxious for the heart of the former German emperor and described how mad some of them were with envy and jealousy when her engagement to William got noised around the world by telegraph and cable.

"BILL" HOHENZOLLERN

TELLS ABOUT PLANS
In her most charming manner the princess conversed with the correspondent at the old Silesian castle which is her ancestral home. She told him a little about the romance and of her plans for the future.

"It was like this," she said, "some friends who were in attendance to the kaiser and who knew of our childhood attachment invited me to his home at Doorn. The crown prince came to Doorn also and in the friendliest sort of way he chatted with me about the affair of the heart. With a laugh he said:

"You know my father is a very good man but sometimes he is hard to get along with."

"A few weeks later the crown prince came to talk with me again. He said: 'Now, I have watched you all this time, and I feel it my duty to tell you my warnings were all wrong. You surely know how to manage people and the whole situation here'."

The princess told the correspondent that the house at Doorn was being conducted along very economical lines. Indeed, she explained, the meals set upon the former emperor's table were occasionally so scanty that they almost looked beggarly. Nevertheless, the princess declared she would adhere to the strict principles of economy which have been in force since the

PARENTS DEAD; YOUTH IS HELD

Minnesota Man Signs Confession But Repudiates It Later

By Associated Press
Virginia, Minn.—Tohio Aho, 22, in a statement to newspapermen at the county jail here Tuesday repudiated his alleged confession made Monday night to Assistant County Attorney Carl Onkka, in which Onkka declared Aho admitted killing his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wirtanen in their home here late Monday.

Declaring that he was "excited and crazy" when he signed the confession prepared by the assistant attorney, Aho said his mother and his stepfather had been quarreling over "some woman" when just as he was about to leave the house, he heard several shots close behind him.

After turning on the porch light and seeing the two lifeless bodies, Aho said he was terror stricken and fled without notifying any one.

According to the repudiated confession, Aho accidentally killed his mother when she stepped between him and Wirtanen as he fired at his stepfather after a quarrel, but he continued shooting and when Wirtanen fell, he placed the pistol in his mother's hand, and fled.

SPUDS IN SAME CLASS WITH GERMAN MARK NOW

By Associated Press
Madison — Every person in the United States will have to eat 45 pounds more of potatoes this year if the present crop is to be consumed, the Wisconsin department of markets estimated Tuesday in a survey of production. Normal consumption of potatoes is said to be 3.2 bushels a person but the bumper crop of this season has resulted in a supply equal to 4 bushels for each individual in the country. Production is estimated at 433 million bushels compared to 347 million produced last year.

With the market price down to a new low figure at 30 cents a hundred pounds the department advises consumers to lay in their winter supply at this time. It says that a further drop would bring potatoes in a class with the German mark and force farmers to hold their crop from market.

3 DEAD, 6 HURT AS FLYER HITS CARNIVAL CARS

Wortham Performers Are Victims In Early Morning Crash—Four Dying

By Associated Press
New Orleans—Three dead four seriously injured and two slightly hurt was the human toll taken in the rear end railroad wreck early Tuesday when the fast Sunset Express, New Orleans-San Francisco Southern Pacific passenger train, tore into the Wortham Carnival shows special, 35 car train enroute from New Orleans to New Iberia, La.

REGISTRATION IS LIGHT IN MORNING

Polls Will Be Open Until 8 O'clock To Accommodate All Who Wish To Vote

Registration for the general election up to Tuesday noon was light, as was expected. The number of names registered is, however, no index to the number that would be recorded in the afternoon, since registration in the past has always been heaviest in the afternoon.

It was assumed by many that there is more interest in the present registration than in other cities outside the Ninth congressional district. This is practically the only district in which all political contests were not decided in the primary election.

Residents who moved from one precinct to another, young persons who recently reached 21, men who were out of the city last election day and women who have never yet voted were numbered among the registrants Tuesday. The polls will be open for registration until 8 o'clock in the evening. A list of the polling places were published in Monday's Post-Crescent.

HITS ALL RELIGIOUS BIGOTS

Compares Wave With Centuries Old Conflict In Ireland

By American Press
Great Bend, Kas.—One pistol shot could produce a state of civil war in Kansas similar to that in Ireland, according to Governor H. J. Allen who continued his attacks on the Ku Klux Klan here Monday.

His speech was a part of a series of political addresses he is making in a pre-election tour of the state but the latter portion of it was devoted to a scathing denunciation of religious bigotry and "community hatred."

OPPOSES TERRORISM
The governor denounced certain types of Catholics and members of the Klan in the same breath, telling them they should be ashamed of themselves.

"Now as a fellow American having the same impulses you have, I am opposed to the Klan because it suggests terrorism and outlawry and by use of disguise, men having a desire to revenge themselves, go out and say: 'We will go out and thresh this fellow.'"

"Point out that he was not condemning the Klan from any personal beliefs or prejudices, the executive said. 'I am not against your organization because you don't like the Catholic church.'

"I am not a Catholic. I am a Methodist and a thirty-second degree Mason and a Knight Templar. I belong to all of these organizations. I belong to everything except the Knights of Columbus and the Ku Klux Klan and I wouldn't join either of them."

"NEGROES MUST ARM"

The governor asked: "Do you want the horrors of a civil war? God forbid such a war, and yet what can you suggest to the Negroes of the state, in some communities of which there are thousands when the old Ku Klux Klan that terrified them 55 years ago, is again riding at night? Can you expect them not to take any means whatever to protect themselves?"

COUNTY WILL PAY SMALLER TAX TO STATE THIS YEAR

Reduction Amounts To $34,000
—Cut Tax Levy For Highway Purposes

A reduction of about 38 cents per capita in state taxes for educational, charitable and penal institutions will be noticeable in Outagamie county next year, as can be seen from the detailed statement of the state tax levy, just received by Herman J. Kamps, county clerk, from Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state.

Outagamie county will pay a total of $137,046.42 to the state in taxes for the year 1923. The state tax levy for the county last year was $171,469.70. The reduction of taxes amounts to about $34,000 for the county. One important factor contributing to the reduction is the commission of a state highway tax. Under the law passed four years ago a highway tax for the state amounting to $1,700,000 was assessed each year for three years. Following a suggestion of Governor Blaine, this tax was committed because of money already on hand in the state treasury for highway improvement.

State taxes to be collected in the county for high schools, graded schools, state university, normal schools and common schools amount to $15,647.47, as compared with the tax levy of the previous year of $150,998.56 for schools and highways. The amount to be collected for the county for state charitable and penal institutions this year is $6,568.43, as compared with $5,617 for the preceding year. Payment on principal and interest of school loans has been reduced from $15,021.76 to $14,680.52.

There will be collected in the county this year $2,723.12 to pay interest on state certificates of indebtedness. This interest is on an old civil war loan which is now being liquidated.

For the aid of education, charitable and penal institutions the county will be required to pay as follows: Aid free high schools, $6,322.02; graded schools, $5,796; state university, $23,024; normal schools, $14,757.37; common schools, $58,184.37; care of chronic insane, $615.24; Northern hospital, $2,773.66; Home for Feeble-Minded, $1,357.58; Industrial School for Boys, $892.48; Tuberculosis sanatorium, $105.22; county tuberculosis sanatorium, $23.20; Industrial School for Girls, $120.52; Tuberculosis camp and farm, $16.07; general hospital, $50.48.

Following are the amounts to be collected from school districts on principal and interest of district school loans: Grand Chute No. 8, principal $333.33, interest $138.33; Oshkosh No. 1, principal $450, interest $20; Joint No. 3, Seymour, Osborn and Oneida, principal $450, interest $20; Black Creek No. 3, $300 and $120; Seymour No. 1, $217.66 and $7.65; Green No. 5, $200 and $10.50; Joint No. 1, Bovina and Shiocton, $146.66 and $15.40; Cicero No. 1, $120 and $25.20; Joint No. 8, Freedom and Kaukauna, $100 and $21; Bovina No. 6, $142.86 and $54.25; Seymour No. 7, $300 and $24; Oneida No. 3, $150 and $36; Maine No. 2, $200 and $64; Deer Creek No. 2, $200 and $72; Oneida No. 4, $200 and $72; union free high school, Bovina and Shiocton, $1,300 and $205; Joint No. 1, Bovina and Shiocton, $600 and $96; Oneida No. 2, $153.33 and $58.20; Joint No. 3, Bovina and Shiocton, $200 and $32; Joint No. 6, Dale and Caladonia, $433.33 and $140.67; Dale No. 4, $500 and $352; Black Creek No. 5, $366 and $161.44; Joint No. 13, Greenville and Grand Chute, $335 and $144.72; Oneida No. 1, $357 and $171.44; Cicero No. 7, $357 and $265.32; Joint No. 1, Dale, Clayton and Winchester, University, $660 and $245.60; normal—$768 and $276.48; Oneida No. 1, normal—$220 and $79.20; Joint No. 7, Oneida and Hobart, $139.92 and $117.60; Joint No. 10, Seymour and Cicero, $621.43 and $248.

The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth, or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter, and if he declares that he is totally blind he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath, in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are, for example, as follows:

Official Ballot For General Election

Mark a cross (X) in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote, if it be there, that you wish to vote for, in the proper place. Said General Election will be held at the regular polling place in each precinct and the polls will be open in Appleton at 6:00 o'clock in the morning and close at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. All other precincts from 9:00 A. M. to 5:30 P. M.

Given under my hand and seal at the Court House in the City of Appleton, this 28th day of October, 1922.

SQUALID PEOPLE DEFY COUNTY TO 'CLEAN THEM UP'

Change in Course Of River May Force State To Pass Special Laws

Chillicothe, O. — When the Scioto River took a few extra twists near Columbus, it started a real problem for the educational heads of a county 50 miles away.

The twists made possible the squalid conditions in Tar Hollow, north of here which health and school authorities of this county cannot break up.

Because the river cut off part of a school district west of Columbus, the state awarded the district the Tar Hollow strip in this county, and because of this, Tar Hollow defies all clean-up efforts and lives happily in dirt, poverty and ignorance.

Tar Hollow, in a glen deep in the hills of northeastern Ross county, is five miles from a passable road. Its residents live in miserable shacks and cabins, in dugouts and in "lean-to" sheds.

Many have never been out of the hollow in their lives—even to go to Halleysville, a village five miles away. Like tribes, families live in squalid huts, hardly fit for cattle, say county officials. Marriage laws are disregarded, school laws are flagrantly repudiated. Raggedness and filth complete the picture officers paint. Corn shocks are used for beds, dirt is the only flooring.

W. A. Yaple, county school attendance officer, and Dr. G. E. Robbins, county health commissioner, went to Tar Hollow, found these conditions existing—

But they can do nothing. Because the land belongs to a school district in a county 50 miles away, local authorities cannot force these people to send their children to Ross county schools.

Tar Hollow folks, squatters on the land, became aware that the work of county school and health officers had been hampered some way. Since then they have flatly refused either to send their children to school or to clean up their unsanitary habitations.

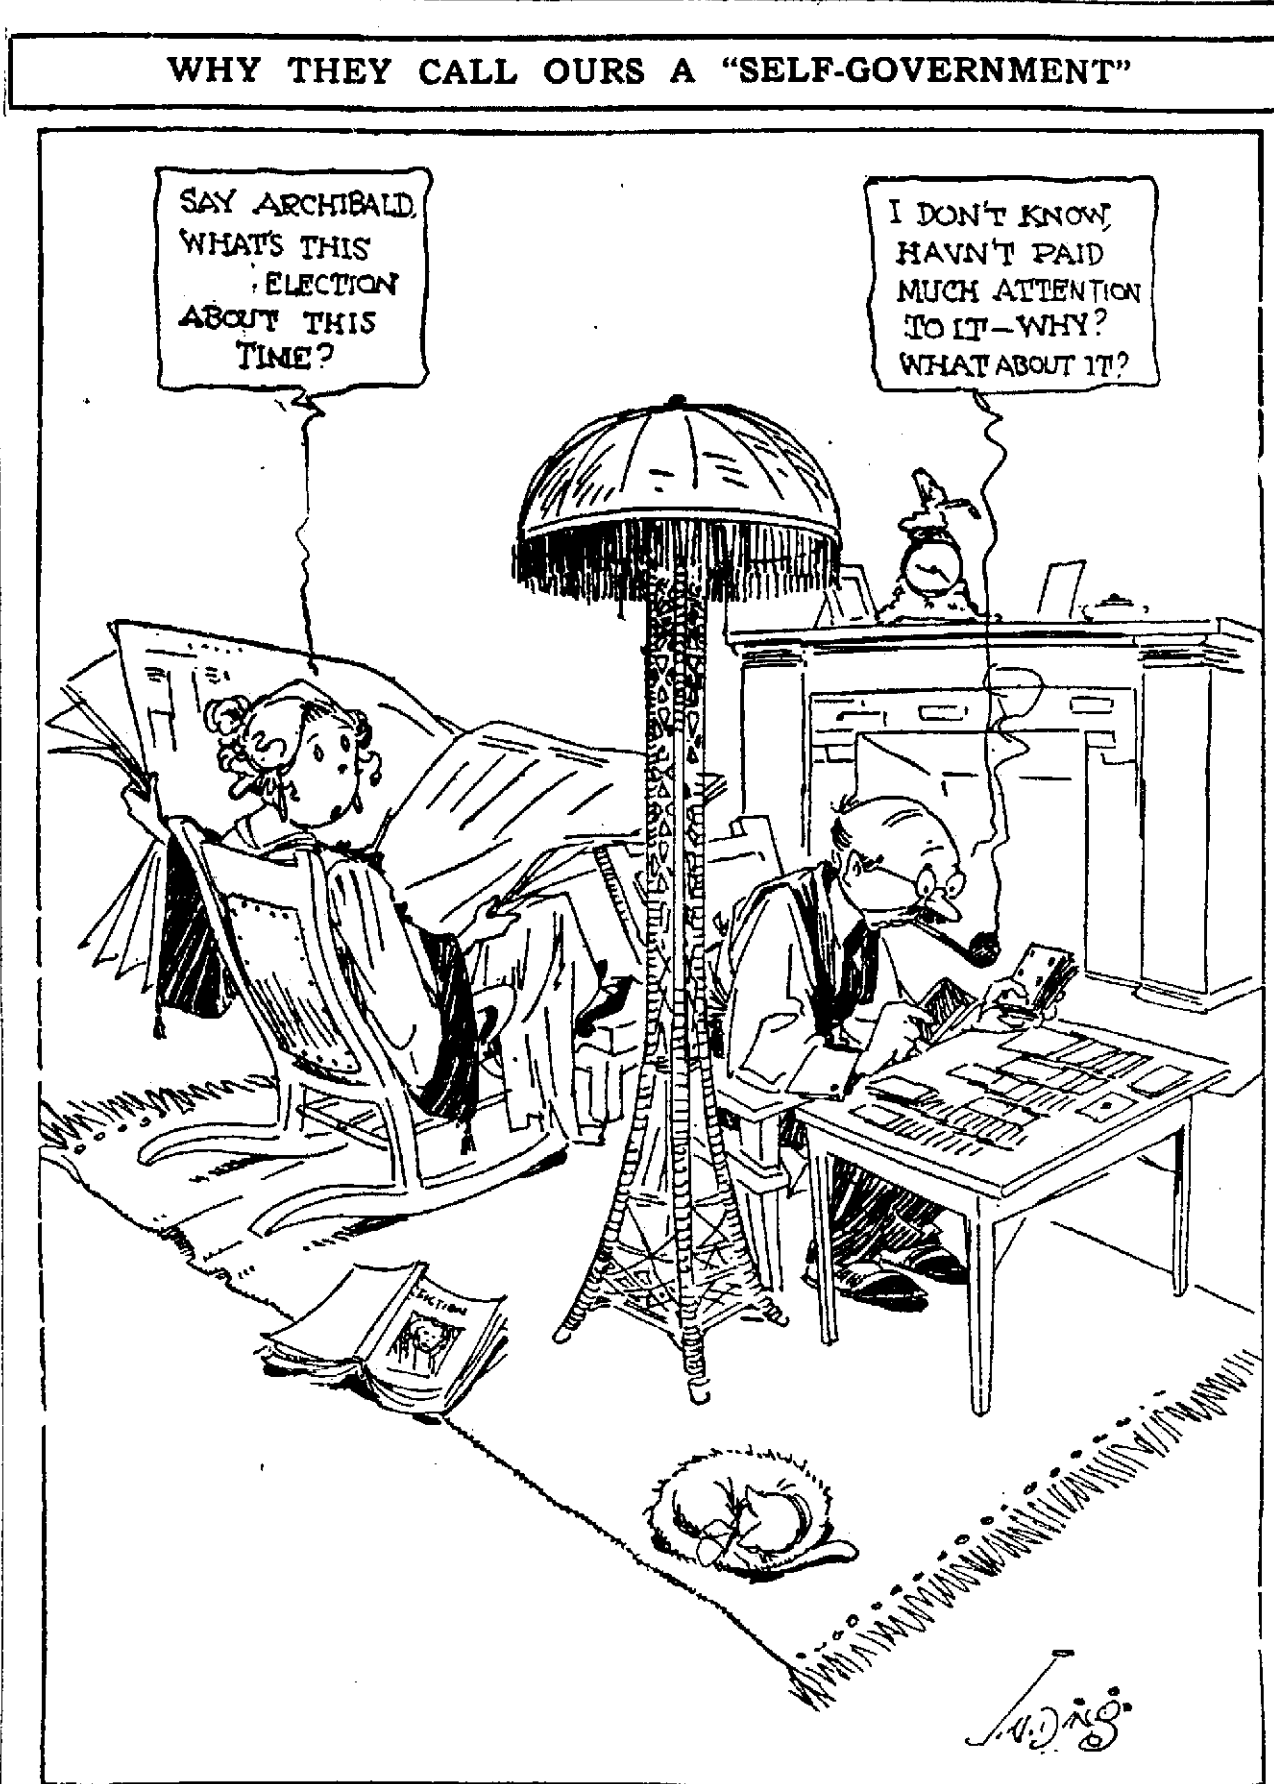

In desperation, the matter has been put up to state officials. Some contend it may be necessary to pass special legislation before the condition can be straightened out.

One man in Tar Hollow agreed to send his six children to school, but did so only after long argument. One woman, deserted by her husband, said none of her nine children had ever seen a schoolhouse.

School Party Has Thrills For Grownups

Old and young mingled at the Halloween party given at Woodlawn school, Grand Chute, Monday evening. Parents of the pupils cut many capers, although the young folk refused to be outdone. A scream of the evening was the footrace won by a man with an artificial limb. The footrace he won was a contest in the length of feet. His was the longest by a half-inch. The contest in which a man threads a needle held by a woman and all the other various Halloween "stunts" produced much merriment.

MEXICAN BULL FIGHTERS ORGANIZE LABOR UNION

Mexico City — Two unions of a rather unusual nature have just been formed here, the Bullfighters' Syndicate and the Union of Playwrights. The former has as its members all men who appear in the corridos from the monochases, or helpers, to the highest salaried matador. At the inaugural meeting it was decided to establish a wage scale, demand better bulls than were afforded last season, and better "working conditions," whatever that may mean.

The playwrights, acting in conjunction with the Union of Theater Employees, are now demanding that none but their own work be produced on the local stage, except by special permission.

Mexican dramatists lead a busy life, and those who are regularly employed at the dozen or so theaters here are required to produce at least two entirely new shows every week. They are fond of making current politics in Mexico their theme, and as a result some of the most caustic comments on the present administration may be found in the theaters. Only recently, following the return of secretary de la Huerta from New York where he negotiated with Mexico's creditors, a sketch was so adversely critical that it was ordered discontinued.

For quick and lasting relief from corns, callouses and bunions, there's nothing like Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They get at the cause, protect against irritation and pressure while they heal. Zino-pads are thin, antiseptic, waterproof. Absolutely safe! Just try them once. Special sizes for corns, callouses, bunions—at druggists and shoe dealer's.

AND NOW ITS MEN WHO ARE HAVING EYEBROWS PLUCKED

Men Who Kicked When Women Entered Barbershops Now Invade Beauty Stores

BY MARGARET ROHE
Oh, you red-blooded male, oh man, it's sad these days to know you're not out battling for the right. Nor giving blow for blow. Nor out to fight the honest fight. 'Gainst greed and labor's foe. Instead you're in a beauty shop, you're noble head laid low. To have each eye-brow plucked and shaped into a perfect bow.

New York—Ever since our husbands and fathers and brothers and best buds began wearing those dinky little feathers in their fedoras we feared the worst and now that the Barber Supply Dealers' Association of America has spoken right out at its annual convention at Chicago the worst is verified.

Here's the awful truth as handed out by the tonsorial supply dealers and they don't care who knows it. Men have become far better customers than the women for highly scented soaps, perfumes, toilet waters and face cream.

But that is not the half of it. Inogen. These erstwhile cave men, red-blooded men, and dominant males are simply overflowing from the barber shops into the beauty salons to have their eyebrows plucked.

JUST LIKE FLAPPERS
Those few straggling hairs sprouting haphazard between the eyes that make the eyebrows a continuous performance across the forehead are no longer to be tolerated by the fastidious male.

Tweezers and depilatories have been pressed into service and masculine eyebrows are plucked and coaxed into an attenuated and clear-cut arches as are any painstaking flappers.

Loud was the masculine chorus of protest when the female invaded the sanctity of the male barber shop to have feminine locks bobbed but now it's a different story when level woman finds every booth at her favorite hairdressers cluttered up with husky males having permanent waves and their eyebrows shaped.

Indeed the arrival of a gentleman client for a permanent wave has become such an everyday occurrence in the best hairdressing salons that the feminine attendants have long ceased to be either thrilled or amused by them.

ALL SUCCUMB
Even the more conservative of the male contingent succumb to their weakness for strong perfumes and scents by such a generous application of odorous powders and brillianthines that they fairly reek and their shiest devotion to scented, massage cream, tissue cream and toilet water would make even a professional beauty woman.

Though by their brilliantine alone we have scented for some time those barbarous masculine failings as just revealed by the barber supply dealers' convention, it is really almost more than a weak woman can stand to learn on top of this that the latest fashion hint from Paris for "the man" is a leaded handkerchief, smelling "feminine" from the breast pocket of the coat.

TESTED RECIPE

COOKIES

By Bertha E. Shapleigh

The following is a very good foundation recipe for a rich, crisp cookie. If cut with a medium-sized cutter, having the dough rolled as thinly as possible without breaking, the recipe will make 60 or more cookies.

- 1 cup butter
- 2 cups sugar
- 3 eggs
- 1 tablespoon milk
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 4 cups flour

Cream the butter and sugar together until light. Add eggs unheated, one at a time, beating well with the addition of each egg. Add soda dissolved in milk. Add flour, thoroughly mix and place in a cold place for several hours.

Take out a small amount of dough at a time, roll, cut and bake in a moderate oven 10 minutes. When finished cookies should be a golden brown.

Nut meg or cinnamon may be put in when mixed, but a very good way is to mix spice with sugar and sprinkle over the top before baking.

Raisins—like seedless ones—grated coconut, chopped nuts, cherries, currants may be used for garnishing the tops.

Brush the cookies with slightly beaten white of egg, mixed with one tablespoon water.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

In Egypt a man never sees the face of the woman he marries until after the wedding ceremony. She is always heavily veiled and very seldom appears outside her home.

Often the man entrusts his choice of wife to another, who conducts matrimonial negotiations for a price. There are women who make a profession of matchmaking.

STABLE SLEEVE AT LAST

Sleeves have been in a wavering, undecided state.

Word came that they were creeping wristward.

Word came that they were receding past the elbow, almost out of sight! Then sleeves themselves came in such a wonderful new style that the argument was settled by the charm of the sleeve itself.

Here is the sleeve that settled the question.

At a glance you can see that it is capable of setting not only the question of sleeves but of the entire style of the dress.

It has the chic and charm of the unexpected. Some sudden whim of use, trappings made it tight where it used to be tight and there you have the new sleeve!

Whether it is of contrasting material, whether it is embroidered elaborately, whether it is cuffed with braid, it remains for the season at least as the smartest sleeve your dress can have!

Cinderella Sally

Chapter 17 — On the Payroll

By Zoe Beckley

"Well, that doesn't sound very hard. Earned $50 a week in town, I should say," said Lucy as Wain hurried off.

Sally clutched Miss Bennet's arm, staring, lips apart.

"What was that about $50?" she whispered.

"That's your pay—$50 a week, and Wain's offered you a nice bit. It ought to be a pretty scene—the big flower basket running out over the heads of the audience on a trolley, with you in it, throwing out bouquets. You'll get away with it in great shape."

Sally kept repeating "Fifty dollars—$50—me!" in a dazed sort of way till Lucy grabbed her and steered her to the street and in to a taxi.

"Do you mean, to say," she began again, as the thing jolted off toward the hotel, "I'm to get all that money for—such a thing as that?"

"Well," laughed Lucy, "of course you've got to make good. You have the face and figure and they'll give you the clothes. You've got to do the rest yourself—make the hit. Some girls get the crowd going in 10 seconds; some are a frost. They don't know you."

"How I'll turn out," finished Sally quickly. Her mouth tightened with determination and Lucy Bennet, judging her for character, was partly reassured.

But Wain next morning, watching from the balcony the great basket embowered with blooms and Sally in her stagey gingham nestled within it, swore softly to himself and snapped disdainful fingers.

"She looks like someone was gonna wring her neck and she was bracing herself to stand it," he muttered. "Good Lord, why can't they stick to regular show girls 'stead of ragin' in these hayseeds! Golden makes me sick...."

Out over the darkened theater his voice rang suddenly:

"Rotten—rotten! Are you going to a funeral? Don't be afraid, the trolley won't break. Try and spare a smile, can't you? Remember you're sailing out over an audience of live human beings, not a graveyard."

Sally's first impulse at the shock and fright of the caldow was to burst into wild weeping—and quit. But again that kamin spirit of hers, or some quality of a long-gone swash buckling ancestor, came to her rescue.

"Say!" she called out in the direction of his voice, across the big, dark theater, "that's no way to talk to me! You can't get me to work for you by yelling like I was a—A kitchen scullion!"

Through sheer surprise Wain was silent. But the next moment he broke out again:

"Well, I guess they've mis-cast you, ducky. We'll have to try you in the star role! Meanwhile, put a little pep into what you're doing and don't look like a dying cat or we'll have to let you out."

Adventures Of The Twins

Fleet Fox Is Fooled

One day Dr. Snuffles' telephone rang.

Nancy answered it. It was Cutie Cottontail talking.

"Say," said Cutie. "I'm in a fix. Ma's gone out and I'm alone. A while ago I peeked out and there was Fleet Fox watching for me."

"I can't go out and ma can't come in, for I heard Fleet call up to Mr. Crow he'd get one or both of us if he had to camp on our door-step till next winter."

"All right, Cutie," said kind Nancy. "I'll tell Dr. Snuffles and Nick and we'll help you. Don't worry. Just keep still and don't poke your little pink nose out until we tell you."

Nancy and Nick and Dr. Snuffles talked it over and finally Dr. Snuffles said:

"I've got a plan. Fleet is the most curious person I ever knew, as well as the greediest. So we'll fool him. Nick, go out and gather some sleepy-berries."

So Nick got the sleepy-berries and the three started off to Cutie's house. Sure enough, there sat Fleet, never taking his eyes off Cutie's front door.

"Hello," said Fleet. "Where are you going?"

"Just to call on Cutie Cottontail and take him something," said Nancy.

Fleet had sharp eyes and he saw the round blackish berries.

"Look like wild cherries," he said hungrily.

"But they aren't!" said Nancy mysteriously.

"I don't believe it," declared Fleet.

"Lemme taste one."

Nancy handed it over and Fleet gobbled it down. "Ugh!" he coughed.

"That's bitter! What is it?"

"A sleepy-berry," laughed Nancy. "You'll be asleep in two minutes, Mr. Fox, and poor Cutie can get out!"

And so it happened.

WHITE TROOPS CARRY OFF GOODS FROM VLADIVOSTOK

By American Press
Vladivostok — Except for the arms which the Japanese were unable to remove when they evacuated Vladivostok, little of value was left for the incoming troops. The retreating White troops requisitioned all the water transportation from an ice breaker to launches and carried off everything that could be moved, even to office curtains and articles to find a purchaser abroad. The White troops even took a shipload of ammunition which it was reported was going to Chang Tso Lin, the uncrowned king of Manchuria. It is estimated that 15,000 people left this city prior to the entry of the Red forces. During the entry they sold their possessions greatly below their real value. Sable coats were sold for a few yen and a French motor car for 60 rubles. The panic was unequalled for, as thus far the Reds have not molested anybody.

KANSAS GOVERNOR WOULD DRIVE KLAN FROM STATE

By American Press
Topeka, Kas. — Following his denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan in addresses at Winfield, and other southeastern Kansas towns, which are reported to be strongholds of the Klan in this state, Governor H. J. Allen Monday was scheduled to carry his campaign against the Klan and in the half of the Republican ticket to Grant Bond, Ellingwood and Lyons. The Governor's anti-Klan addresses are looked upon in state house circles here as perhaps the outstanding sensation of the campaign. In his addresses the governor declared that if it is legally possible he will drive the Klan from Kansas. At the Winfield and Coffeyville meetings when the governor began denouncing the Klan, as if by signal a large delegation of men arose and left the hall declaring themselves to be Klan sympathizers.

Household Hints

SILVER TRIMMING
Large bows of silver ribbon trim some of the newest felt hats. They are mushroom-shaped and brighten up tailored suits or dark wraps.

PAINTED PLUMAGE
A gown of electric blue velvet, banded at the hem and sleeves with Australian opossum, has a large tropical bird painted on the front of the skirt.

Miss Florence S. Jenkins, county superintendent of schools, accompanied by Miss Emily F. Webster of the Oshkosh normal school faculty, visited Sunday at the home of F. A. Allen, superintendent of the Indian agency at Neopit.

NEW EFFECT

One of the season's most interesting collar effects is shown here. It is plainly a compromise between the high and the low but such a compromise as only an artist could have made. Second in interest are the diagonal bands of black braid, and the embroidered belt, which add to the decorative quality of the frock.

BRAIDED FUR

A smart suit of taupe broadcloth is trimmed with bands of mole. The mole is heavily braided in soutache braid and braid fastenings adorn the front of the coat.

BLACK WITH WHITE

A fashion novelty is a short jacket of white matelasse trimmed with millinery ermine, worn with a smartly draped skirt of black velvet.

DINNER FROCK

A stunning straight-line frock in white Canton crepe has an artistically draped skirt and wide flowing sleeves trimmed with bands of jet beads. The square neckline is unveiled by trimming.

Double Soap Without Increased Size

Would you buy ordinary mild soap with sawdust simply because it might be cheaper than an equally full of pure cornmeal? Then, why buy ordinary white or yellow laundry soap when it is mixed with "filler" to make a little soap look like a full-size bar?

This may be news to you, but it's something fabric makers have known for years. They avoid the common laundry soap and wash their materials with olive oil soap.

All the energy you spend rubbing "filler" into clothes is wasted for the "filler" has no cleaning power. Worse than that, it cuts and rots the fabric. Soon little holes and thin spots appear and you blame the goods or the woman who washes.

Get the new, large, greenish laundry bar called GREEN ARROW, containing "not a filler" but real olive oil and naphtha. It's the olive oil whiteness, softness and sweetness that makes new materials so attractive when you buy them. You can keep your clothes like new if you wash them with a soap like this.

Pure GREEN ARROW is made by The Palmolive Co. No soap maker could afford to use olive oil in a home laundry soap if it were not for an enormous output of olive oil products, in which The Palmolive Co. leads the world. Every home that gets this large greenish laundry bar gets the benefit of their quantity production in the form of a finer laundry soap than you ever dreamed you could have, and one that goes nearly twice as far as the ordinary because it is all soap and no filler.

It never makes hands red, dry or rough. Order it from your grocer, but be sure to use less soap.

GIRL DEEP SEA DIVER IS SEEKER OF SPANISH GOLD

English Girl Braves Life—One Of Few Of Weaker Sex In Profession

London—The profession of deep sea diving, which anyone would classify as a calling particularly fitted for men, has been successfully invaded by a woman, Margaret Naylor, an English girl, is acclaimed as one of the most efficient and daring wearers of the helmet in British waters.

She gained a wide reputation during the last two years, and more recently for her efforts in the recovery of treasure from the sunken Spanish ship lying in ten fathoms of water near the shore of Mull, an island off Scotland. There, in the cozy little harbor of Tobermory, and less than a hundred yards from the beach, lies one of the great treasure ships of the Spanish armada. The boat was one of the many vessels launched by the ambitious Phillip, in 1588, for the attempted conquest of England.

So certain was this monarch that he would add the British Isles to his already large domains, that he actually sent on his jeweled regalia in advance. It is believed today that the richly bejeweled crown is lying some where in the sixty feet of water among the wreckage of the Admiral de Florencia, which Miss Naylor has succeeded in negotiating.

Although the task presents many problems which would cause anxiety to divers of the stronger sex, Miss Naylor shows no fear. She had had one or two narrow escapes from death in the course of her experience, without being in any way deterred from tackling the risky business again.

Miss Naylor recently made a trip to the southern coast of England and obtained some excellent specimens of undersea plant life. She nearly lost her life when her feet became entangled in a ladder she was using, and only her presence of mind enabled her to free herself and be hauled safely to the top.

Many of the dark blue serges seen on Fifth Avenue are trimmed with insertions of bright-colored platings, intones of scarlet, henna, green and Alice blue.

HUNTERS, TAKE NOTICE!

Five million of you will go afield this fall. Yet game is more abundant than it was 20 years ago when hunters were fewer.

What is the reason? Good game laws which are obeyed? The good sportsman no longer breaks laws. He has seen the results of game protection. He knows that the law breaker is spoiling his own sport and the other fellow's.

For your convenience, the Department of Agriculture has printed all the 1922 game laws by states in a new booklet just off the press. Every hunter should have a copy of this booklet. You can get yours by writing to our Washington Information Bureau. Fill out the coupon and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

Frederic J. Huskin, Director, The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the Game Laws Booklet.

ELKS AND EAGLES OPEN BOWLING SEASON WITH BANG

War Whoop Of 'Red Skins' Marks Crash; F.O.E. Spill 'Em; Bright Spots Lead

Olympic Teams Get Highest Marks—Scores Over 200 Are Numerous—Moons Invade City Tuesday Night

More teams joined the pin topplers for the season Monday night when the quietest representing Eagles league No. 1 and the Elks league rolled first games on their respective alleys. The Elks rolled unofficial games.

Sioux topped all three games from the Ottawas by nearly 200 pins while there was only a difference of 2 pins in the total between the Ironquios and the Quinneys of the Elks league. The Ironquios marched off with the first two games but dropped the average in the last game.

BRIGHT SPOTS SHINE
At the Eagle alleys the Toy Factory team showed up the Eagle Night Hawks by nearly 150 pins and took the last two games. In the other match of league No. 1, the Bright Spots clearly outshone their rivals, Sell's Eagles. There was a difference of 88 pins.

You got to give the Olympics credit for their high scores. Blatz-Grays ran away with two games from the Cameron-Schulz team. Horn, Retzer, Bauer and Welhouse rolled 200 and over and there were other high marks.

GRAYS SHUTOUT PINKS
Grays gave the Pinks a shutout on St. Joseph alleys. The Blue Moons of Kimberly will invade the Eagle alleys Tuesday night to roll against the F. O. E. team. This match promises to be a thriller. The Eagles trimmed the Moons of Kimberly and the visitors believe that revenge is sweet.

This And That In Sportdom---By Grove

Must Develop Speed In Action And Thought

BY AUBREY DEVINE
All-American 1921, Captain Iowa, 1921 "Big Ten" Champions

In preparing himself to make the college team, the high school star must first of all fit himself physically and mentally for the stress and strain of collegiate football. Physical and mental fitness must come first, and with these, as a rule, you may expect to find confidence. In fact, confidence in himself may be said to be included in the player's mental fitness.

Having laid this foundation, the player must develop greater speed than was ever demanded of him in his most strenuous high school combats. He must develop speed not only in action, but in thinking as well, and above all he must school himself to keep his head in the game every minute, during practice as well as in regular games.

MANY ARE BADLY COACHED
The newcomer from high school must remember what the coaches tell him. At college he will find that there are too many men on the squad to allow the coaches time to go around amongst the men night after night, telling each individual the

Michigan And Indiana Clubs Lead—Buckeyes Are Cel-lar Champs

Michigan and Indiana clubs are tied in the race for first place in the Interlakes Bowling league. Both teams won nine and lost three games. Ohio is in the cellar but according to a few tale bearers, pin knights composing the team do not intend to remain there. Reports have it that the Buckeyes intend to get in a few practice games on the side and then stage a surprise.

GIANTS PAY $50,000 FOR JACK BENTLEY

By Associated Press
New York.—Baseball circles were agog Monday over the acquisition by the World's Champions, Giants of Jack Bentley, star batsman and pitcher of the Baltimore International League club, for a reported consideration of $50,000 in cash and four players. Club officials declined to confirm reports of the purchase price but baseball men ranked the deal importance with the sale of Jimmy O'Connell to the Giants for $75,000 and Willie Kamm to the White Sox for $100,000 both from the San Francisco club of the Pacific coast league.

'GHOST BALL' IS USED BY BADGERS

Madison—The "ghost ball" made its first appearance of the season at Camp Randall Monday as the Wisconsin team drove through a long scrimmage in preparation for its game with Minnesota Saturday. When practice lasted after night began to settle, Coach Richards called out the whitewashed piskin in order that the scrimmage might continue. The Frosh team was sent against the varsity with rather disastrous results to the regulars, whose line was unable to hold the plunging of the yearling backfield men. From now until Saturday the coaches will direct attention to the forward wall which shows marked weakness.

Hohfeld at guard has been switched from the right to the left side of the line to bolster it up. The other guard position is likely to be filled by Bieberstein on Saturday. Captain Williams, although out with an injury is expected to be in the lineup against Minnesota.

YE FISHING AND HUNTING COLUMN

By M. J. V. Fose

Ducks are becoming numerous again around the Rat and Wolf rivers and also Partridge lake. Thousands of ducks are reported in open water on Partridge lake last Sunday and numerous duck hunters were lined up on shore waiting for a shot but the wily ducks seemed to know that they are safe in open water. Several hunters reported that they bagged quite a few in this vicinity last Sunday.

The October "Isaac Walton League Monthly" appeared Monday and there are some interesting articles therein for the sportsman this month. One article deals with the surrounding territory by W. E. Earber of Madison and is worth reading. Another is the "Plant a Bass" campaign and should be read by every sportsman interested in fishing.

HIGH GRIDDERS PRACTICE FOR MENOMINEE TILT

Fighting Spirit Returns To Blue And Orange—Drill At Jones Park

Still smarting under the sting of defeat from Marinette, Appleton's high school football squad went into practice Monday night at Jones' park with a marked difference.

Fighting spirit that oozed away last Saturday seemed to be back with the lads. Coach Arthur Denney is bolstering up the line and is putting over other corrective measures for the coming game at Menominee. The Michiganders are in the same class as Marinette and if the word of the Wolverine citizens is to be taken they are even better than their Twin City brothers. In last Saturday's game the Menominee high school team staged a surprise by beating the Escanaba team 32 to 0. The white-wash was unexpected as the Eskys have one of the strongest eleven in upper peninsula.

Coach Denney had little to say about the drubbing the Blue and Orange was forced to take Saturday. He admitted, however, that the defeat was a surprise to him. He declared that the principal reason for the poor showing of his men was the break in favor of Marinette when Appleton fumbled in the shadows of its own goal line and which resulted in a touchdown a few moments later. The fact that Appleton always had the breaks and heretofore had the opponents on the defense and to be suddenly placed on the defense by another team, surprised the Blue and Orange. The high schools lads simply didn't know how to act when they were put on defense.

SEARCH FOR MEN WITH APE TAILS

Scientists And One Woman Penetrate Central Africa To Find Missing Link

BY GENE COHN

San Francisco—Out of the remote fastnesses of the Malay archipelago hunters and adventurers have for years brought stories of a "missing link" tribe of "monkey-tailed natives." Skeptical science is now going to definitely prove or explode these tales of tails.

And a pretty American girl is going to help the first white girl to enter these remote places.

She is Dorothy Salisbury, who accompanies her father, Captain Edward A. Salisbury, scientist and explorer, who has just sailed from here with a scientific party including Prof. Edward Burghard, Columbia University, Lieutenant Duke Zeller, who was a member of the last Stefansson expedition, and Lieut. Col. M. C. Cooper of the army aviation service.

It was while I was exploring in the Solomon and New Hebrides islands that I first heard from native game hunters of a tribe on the Malay archipelago, every member of which had a tail," explained Captain Salisbury.

"Down there I also ran across some postcards which showed some photographs of such a man, but which many declared to be a fake. Science has never definitely established their existence."

"According to the descriptions we were given, these natives have sloping foreheads, short thick, bristly hair, starting just above the eyes. Their ears are unusually sharp and pointed and their faces are said closely to resemble the Central African ape."

The scientists will meet at Singapore, where they will sail on the Salisbury yacht, being outfitted there for the trip.

GOES TO PRISON FOR 2 YEARS FOR ASSULTING MAN

Neenah Man Severely Punished For Attacking Man Who Befriended Him

Justice was meted out swiftly and severely at the hands of Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Tuesday when Ernest Ehrigot, of Neenah, who came to Appleton prepared to pay a fine of $5 and costs for assault and battery was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary at Waupun.

A warrant for Ehrigot's arrest had been obtained by Robert Henry of Shiocton, the complainant, and Sheriff P. G. Schwartz Monday left in company with the Shiocton man for Neenah where Mr. Henry's assailant was found in a boarding house. The prisoner, who is about 32 years old, and has served 18 months in the Green Bay reformatory, created somewhat of a disturbance in the Neenah police station, but finally admitted the crime.

According to the testimony, Henry was returning from Darbois and had night Saturday and passed through Buchanan, where he was stopped by Ehrigot, who asked for a ride. The driver of the automobile had tonight several times to tinker with the car which was not running smoothly. After he had again stopped to measure the gasoline in the tank, his companion also alighted and without warning struck him in the face.

This attack was followed by several more swift blows, but David, the Shiocton man, for a time. But when he arose and began to defend himself the younger man, seeing that his opponent was the stronger, fled.

Henry had seen the man, before, but was not certain as to his name. His description of the man, however, was accurate and led to his discovery and subsequent arrest. The victim of the assault was badly bruised and his head was wrapped in bandages.

Questioned by Judge Spencer as to the reasons for the assault, the young man replied that he was drunk. A drunken man, it was said, could not strike with such precision and better the features of the man in the way that was evident. He assumed he had struck him with a whisky bottle.

HARBECK TELLS LIONS OF RAIL CONGESTION

J. Henry Harbeck was the principal speaker at the Lions club luncheon at the Sherman house Monday. He talked freely about his interview with Soo Line officials in regard to changing their roadbed so as to enter Appleton from Medina, which would do away with the present route. The new defile would be the route near the old fair grounds. The site of the proposed west end Junior high school was discussed.

EAT MORE APPLES! THEY ARE REAL FOOD

Madison — Commercial associations of the state are asked by the state department of markets in a statement Tuesday, to cooperate in driving home to the consumer that apples are a food and not a luxury and that consumers can materially assist in helping the apple producing states by eating more of their product. Wisconsin in common with other producing states have a large surplus of stock on their hands. Production of apples has been above normal in Wisconsin this year, leaving producers with a large part of their crop unsold. W. P. Jones, in charge of fruit and vegetables for the department of markets, says. He is asking that the commercial agencies and the farmers in selling their product.

Appleton is entitled to 23 delegates, Dale to 4 delegates and Medina to 1 delegate.

Full reports of the association will be submitted and the proposed membership campaign will be discussed. A Wisconsin member of the national executive committee also will be elected.

SCHNEIDER NOT A SOCIALIST. HE TELLS AUDIENCE

Attacks On Progressive Candidates Win Nothing. He Says At DePere

George J. Schneider of Appleton, candidate for congress from the Ninth district, presents the name of "Socialist" and "Bolshevik" by which he said he is called. Mr. Schneider spoke to a gathering of more than 600 members of the railroad brotherhoods in Green Bay Sunday.

"People are beginning to study the candidates and to look behind these candidates to see who is backing them," he said, "and will make their decision on what they find."

"The names that are being called by the opposition, such as Socialist and Bolshevik, are in line with the attack of the Committee of forty-four. They are falsehoods told for the purpose of prejudicing the voters against the real progressive candidates, but they win nothing for the opposition."

Mr. Schneider declared that the progress of the campaign thus far is very gratifying as far as he is able to determine in his visits in practical by every county of the district.

PERSISTENT MASHER

Monday night on my way home I noticed two women on the other side of the street. When they reached Marston's coal yard a car drove up to them and the driver asked them to take a ride. One woman answered "I don't ride with every Tom, Dick and Harry that comes along." He wasn't discouraged and followed. At a crossing he stopped so the women would have to go around the car and he said "Don't you want company?" One of the women said, "I only live a block down and if I need any company my husband is there. I don't need yours." The young man rode on.

HARD DAY FOR WHEELS

When returning to town Sunday evening, I noticed that the left rear wheel of the car ahead of me was wobbling peculiarly. Before I could overtake the driver to warn him the heel came off and continued down the road. While the occupants of the car watched its progress with consternation. No one was hurt and the runaway member was soon captured and replaced. Imagine my surprise on seeing, before I reached town, two other cars in the same condition—left rear wheels off and the occupants dejectedly awaiting help.

PICKED ON WRONG MAN

Yesterday I saw a young couple walking ahead of me. The young man had his eye bandaged. As they passed the First National bank some young fellows standing there made this remark: "Gee that fellow got a black eye from his girl before he is married, what will he get after?" The young man heard it, turned on them and said, "I want you to understand that this is my wife. No funny remarks from you or I will make you bandage your eye. If you are so clever I wish you would take the cinder out of my eye, then I would not have to go to the doctor." The men walked down the avenue without looking back.

CONSIDERATE MERCHANT

I saw this sign in a shoe shop. Any man, woman or child may have a fit in this shop.

SHOULD TELL POLICE

Last night as I was walking down Cherry st. a young fellow, who was with several other fellows picked up a stone and threw it at the arc light smashing the glass and putting the light out. Instead of picking the glass up, he walked off thinking he had performed a fine Halloween trick.

A BALKY FORD

This happened Saturday on the concrete road going to Black Creek about 12 miles from here. A man driving a Ford touring car lost control of his machine and ran into an electric light pole. The car was damaged quite a bit. The front wheel was off and the steering wheel broken, and the front was pushed back about four inches. A boy about four years old pushed his head through the wind shield and was cut quite badly.

NICE PLACE TO FAINT

At about 7:30 Saturday morning two girls alighted from the Inter-urban car at State Street and crossed the avenue.

As they approached Schaefer Bros. grocery store, a large brown dog ran up to them and began to bark furiously as well as to jump at them.

One of the girls ran into the entrance of the grocery store and then fainted into the arms of Mr. Schaefer who had come out to see what caused all the disturbance.

DOG CAUSES RUNAWAY

Monday afternoon a farmer was going down Franklin st with a load of cabbage.

A dog ran out and playfully grabbed one of the horses by the heel, causing the team to run at a break neck speed for nearly three blocks and a half.

Finally the farmer was able to stop them, but not until after dozens of heads of cabbage were spilled in the street.

While walking down Oneida st the other night I heard the approach of stealthy footsteps and breathed a sigh of relief when they passed me and out of curiosity I looked for the reason of the queer sound and discovered a young man walking home in his stocking feet and carrying a pair of new oxfords in his hand.

THOSE TERRIBLE LIGHTS

About 6:45 Monday evening, a Hudson touring car going east on Second ave turned to go south on Oneida st. At it turned the corner the driver was blinded by the bright lights of an approaching car and ran over the catch basin on the northwest corner. The light back wheel hit the obstruction and a tire was blown out, the back spring was broken, and a hole was punctured in the gasoline tank, causing the loss of all the gasoline. A man and a woman occupied the car.

POST BRINGS "MASQUERADER" TO THE SCREEN

Recognized as one of America's most distinguished actors, Guy Bates Post has come to the screen and will be seen at the Elite Theatre this week in "The Masquerader," the play in which he has been appearing for over six years. A sincere, thorough study of picture technique, added to the sincerity, the artistry and the polish of his performance will undoubtedly establish Post in as lofty a place on the screen as he enjoys on the stage.

Richard Walton Tully, who produced the film version of "The Masquerader," as he did in the theatre, is America's foremost playwright producer. His successes include "The Rose of the Rancho," "The Bird of Paradise," "Omar the Tent Maker," "The Flame," "Keep Her Smiling," and numerous other favorites. His all-around experience and continuous success in every branch of theatricals renders him peculiarly fit for picture production, where his unerring appreciation of the public taste must bring him fame, even though the field is new to him.

An extraordinarily high grade cast was assembled for this picture under the direction of James Young. It includes Edward M. Kumball, Ruth Sinclair, Lawson Butt, Marcia Manon, Herbert Standing, Barbara Tennant, Kenneth Gibson and other recognized players of merit. The picture is a First National attraction.

IN PRICE - IN QUALITY

IN SERVICE

According to a statement just issued by Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, a general reduction of $50.00 a car has been made in the prices of Ford Model T Cars and the Ford 1 Ton Truck, effective October 17th.

"The revision in prices," said Mr. Ford, "is the result of the increased volume of business which our company has enjoyed during the present year, and also to the fact that we now own and operate many of our own sources of raw material, which enables us to continue increasing the quality of our product and at the same time keep the price so low that Ford cars are in reach of everybody."

"Our Production for 1922 is already in excess of a million, which has been an important factor in bringing down costs. Our present daily output is averaging better than 5,000 Cars and Trucks, which means a complete Ford Car or Truck every 5 1/2 seconds of each eight-hour working day. It is in anticipation of this continued demand that price adjustments are again being made in order to keep in effect the policy of selling Ford products at the lowest price consistent with quality."

"Quality, as usual, said Mr. Ford, will continue to be a prime consideration in the building of Ford Cars. As our business has increased we have constantly increased our equipment and manufacturing facilities, so that this price reduction merely reflects the progressive methods which come as a result of increased volume."

"This reduction, which is the sixth since March, 1920, brings the price of the Ford Touring Car from $575, the price in effect in 1920, to the present extremely low level of $298, which is nearly 50% less. Corresponding reductions have been made on all other types."

VALUATION REPORTS OF RAIL PROPERTIES

The work of estimating the value of railroad properties of all sorts in the whole of the United States is well on the way toward completion. It was begun ten years ago under the auspices of the Interstate Commerce commission. Appraisements of forty lines have been completed, and by June 30, 1923, reports on all but six of the great properties will be ready.

Nowadays different states and cities, especially those which try to keep up with the times, are having valuations of interurban and street railway, light, power and other utility companies made. It is now recognized as a principle of rate-making that property value and operating costs, instead of capital stock, are to govern.

Properties are worth so much. It costs so much to run them, and rates based on value and actual costs are classed as reasonable.

Incidentally, this has been found to be a practical way to take water out of the capital of public utilities.

CONTROVERSY OVER THE LANE LETTERS

There will be much saying and gain-saying as a result of the publication of excerpts from a letter of the late Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior in President Wilson's cabinet, relative to the atmosphere prevailing in the cabinet at the beginning of the war and prior thereto. After both sides are heard, chroniclers and the people will continue to differ in opinion.

The Lane letters are not only interesting on account of the historical side-lights which they contain, but because of their beautiful observations on life and immortality. Mr. Lane's mind was a rich storehouse of inspiring thoughts, and to read his letters to friends is to regret that he was not a professional writer instead of a publicist in office.

THE CURE FOR UNREST

Now that business is approximately normal again practically all over the United States, it is apparent that the intense feeling of unrest is diminishing, while the sense of security is growing. Such uncertainty and excitement as do exist are related directly to the political campaign and are the last remaining consequences of agitation.

It will not be enough for calm to prevail throughout the United States. It will have to be world-wide. But once it is restored in our country through the stimulating results of improved trade and general prosperity, its re-establishment beyond the seas will be easier and more rapid.

Even the political disturbances in different lands at the present time are but manifestations of economic ills, especially of the economic ills of the nations which are commercially and financially strong. So, it will be necessary for the United States to join in some kind of an international arrangement to readjust economic disorders as the means of obtaining widespread normal condition.

Great Britain, Japan and Scandinavian countries are in stable circumstances financially, but not all of them in combination could provide the necessary relief or support. The United States is not only in the strongest position financially, but is powerful in influence, because it is free from competitions and entanglements which foment suspicion and hostility. Leading economists of Europe, as well as statesmen, are of the opinion that the United States cannot isolate itself from world trade without losing its commercial and financial prestige, and they are right.

The way to content and optimism is not through politics and laws, but through business and work. As long as the people of various lands are troubled, rancor and the revolutionary feeling will thrive. Unrest is due everywhere to discouraging circumstances of employment and living.

There are signs that financiers and statesmen are beginning to realize facts as facts are, and to recognize that an adjustment to restore solvency and prosperity is imperative. The public should be acquainted with all the facts as fully as possible. Now that we are back to work, we are in an understanding mood.

NEW TYPE OF MOTORCAR

Mr. Charles P. Steinmetz, special expert of the General Electric company, has perfected an electric motor which his friends believe will revolutionize the automobile industry. The batteries have a cruising range of two hundred miles, practically one-third more than those now in use. The car is light, weighing only two thousand pounds, and easily attains a speed of thirty-five to forty miles an hour.

Inventions and improvements indicate that the cost of electric power will be reduced. On the other hand, the price of oil and its products will increase, due to growing demand. A light, inexpensive electric car probably would have a revolutionary effect on the motor business.

An interesting feature in connection with Mr. Steinmetz's invention is that title to it rested legally with the General Electric company. This corporation has first claim to everything designed by Mr. Steinmetz. Deciding that it did not wish to enter into automobile manufacture, the company turned the ownership of the invention over to him as his personal property.

DECLINE OF POSTAL SAVINGS

All through the business reaction, and also since the revival of business, savings in national and state banks have been increasing. Deposits in the postal savings banks, however, have decreased more than $11,000,000 since the peak of 1919, and it is said that most of the decline has taken place in the last few months.

The postoffice department is investigating to find out the cause of the loss. Practically all savings kept with the government are those of wage earners, and a considerable percentage is the money of foreigners.

Much of the withdrawn money has gone into investment in foreign countries, or will be sent abroad. Much has been used since 1919 for living expenses. Some has gone into the regular banks.

The postoffice department need not grieve if the postal savings banks have to be closed. Probably it would be better if they were closed. The public should be educated to deposit savings in regular banks affiliated with the Federal Reserve system.

EATING TOO MUCH SWEET STUFF

Corpulency is increasing in the United States. One of the big life insurance companies finds a tendency among Americans of middle age to be overweight. Eating sweets is mentioned as the cause.

The average span of life will not be extended by fatness. Corpulency is the leading contributing cause of death among middle aged and elderly persons, who are inactive and shun exertion.

In these times extravagant modes of living signify that many persons, possibly a majority, care only about comforts and luxuries, and scoff at infirmity and age. But the point of view changes when helath is impaired.

CAPTAIN WALK CENSURED

Just as soon as Captain Walk of the freighter West Faralon had rescued those who still remained alive after the City of Honolulu burned, he sent a wireless message broadcast telling of the rescue. The news agencies ashore at once spread the good news.

But Captain Walk was censured officially by the Shipping board for violating what its representative calls "one of the iron-clad rules of steamship companies that a ship captain should not talk to the press, particularly on a disaster at sea."

Captain Walk's "talk to the press" conveyed to the anxious ones ashore who had friends or relatives aboard the City of Honolulu the assurance that the burning ship had not gone down with all on board.

But Captain Walk did the right thing, and bureaucratic "official censure" is not censure for him, but censure for the small minds that cannot get away, even for a moment from rote and rule.—WORCESTER GAZETTE.

BRONCHIAL CONFLAGATIONS

Even when an alleged "cold on the chest" really is acute bronchitis there is still a chance it may prove to be something else after all. "About once a year," wrote Dr. Osler, in the medical bible, "I see a case of typhoid fever, in which the diagnosis at first has been acute bronchitis." And no doubt Dr. Osler encounters many more such cases now.

One of the several misleading modes of onset of lung tuberculosis is with acute bronchitis. And so familiar to the laity is this form of influenza that the popular diagnosis of "grippe" has come to cover about every acute respiratory infection in the category, from common coryza to meningitis. "Grippe" is a meaningless term—a blanket diagnosis, a short and simple way of saying you don't know what really is the matter. There is no such disease or condition as "grippe" except so far as the idea serves to fit the numerous sure cures offered the credulous layman for never-mind-what-ails him.

Acute bronchitis is as much a part of measles as is the skin rash. It is in no way dependent on the "rash striking in" from "exposure" or from "taking cold," as the superstitious still imagine. In fact, there is no more reason for keeping a measles patient to himself than there is for keeping a person with tuberculosis or typhoid fever under such unhygienic conditions.

Acute bronchitis generally accompanies whooping cough, and is all the more reason for keeping the child in the open air as much as possible.

Young persons whose education has been sadly neglected—below the eyebrows—are much more likely to have acute bronchitis than are those who have received a fair physical training. Particularly liable are children with spinal curvature.

Adults in the early, and often unrecognized stages of arteriosclerosis, heart-muscle impairment, or chronic nephritis (Bright's disease) are susceptible to acute bronchitis and likely to develop the chronic form.

People of all ages, conditions, and classes who cherish the fatuous notion that the way to keep good and warm is by wearing excessive amounts of clothing and keeping the temperature indoors well above 68 degrees Fahrenheit, are notoriously susceptible to bronchitis. Their bronchial tubes are "weak" or "sensitive," as they say, but they might understand, if they were capable of ratiocination, that it is simply a case of codding.

The essential or primary cause of acute bronchitis is as clearly determined as is the case of septicemia (acute blood poisoning), and that is bacterial infection. Everybody today knows that acute blood poisoning is caused by infection, and that the infection (the germs) need not come directly from another case of acute blood poisoning, but may come from a mere boil or pimple or improperly treated cut or other minor wound. Likewise the indiscriminate boor who sneezes or coughs on his neighbors may have only a slight head cold but give the unlucky neighbor acute bronchitis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cocoa Butter

Please tell me whether massaging the chest with cocoa butter will put on flesh.—(Mrs. C. K. J.)
Answer—No known substance applied to the skin will increase the local nutrition or cause the local accumulation of fat. No known food is absorbed through the skin. Cocoa butter is rather an inferior food as compared with lard, suet or dairy butter. Perhaps you need to increase the weight. I should be glad to send you some suggestions to help you gain weight.

Kindly tell me if it is injurious to take one teaspoonful of precipitated chalk in half a glassful of water daily for the nerves.—(L. A. C.)

Answer—No, although it has no particular effect on the nerves.

Cancer of the Lung and Liver

Is there such a thing as cancer of the lung or liver? Would that fill you up and make you feel bloated?—(Mrs. V. H.)

Answer—Cancer often occurs in the liver and in the lung, usually secondary to cancer elsewhere in the body. It would not make you feel bloated.

"Does drying up a ship include drying up passenger's luggage and passengers' staterooms?" Judge Graess Eligible

WILLIAM L. CROW
Doctor of Law, University of Chicago;
Professor of Politics, Lawrence College

The candidacy of Judge Graess for member of the House of Representatives has brought up an interesting question of constitutional law, the study of which is the duty of every voter in this district of Wisconsin.

The Constitution of Wisconsin in Article VII, Section 10, provides, among other things not relevant to the matter under discussion, as follows: "They (Judges of the Supreme and Circuit Courts) shall hold no office of public trust except a judicial office during the term for which they are respectively elected, and all votes for either of them for any office except a judicial office given by the legislature or the people shall be void." In addition, Section 2564M-2 of the Wisconsin Statutes of 1921 reads as follows: "The judge of any court of record in this state shall be ineligible to hold any office of public trust, except a judicial office, during the term for which he was elected, and all votes cast for any such judge for any office except a judicial office shall be void."

As the term of which Judge Graess was elected has not yet expired, it is claimed that by virtue of the Constitution and Statutes of Wisconsin he is ineligible for membership in the House of Representatives. An analysis of the situation reveals this single question: "Can a state determine for itself the qualifications for a member of Congress?" The voter who was given copies of the above excerpts from the Constitution and Statutes of Wisconsin was asked to "read and determine for yourself." Now, merely reading the quotations will not suffice. It is necessary to have some background of governmental theory and judicial precedent in connection with the quotation, which it is the purpose of this article to give. The State of Wisconsin by virtue of the fact that it is member of the Federal union and is not an unequalled prerogative cannot determine for itself, but must be controlled in many instances by the Constitution of the United States. That is, a state, as well as the Federal Government, has only limited jurisdiction. It is not necessary in the course of this article to go into the large question concerning the limits of that jurisdiction. Sufficient it is to discuss the power of a State to add to the qualifications for a member of the House of Representatives as set down in the Constitution of the United States.

At the outset, let us look at a small portion of the historical background of the Constitution of the United States. Our Constitution, as originally constructed, was the product of the brains of about fifty statesmen, schooled in practical politics under the Articles of Confederation, who assembled at Philadelphia during the summer of 1787. From colonial experience it had been found that the states could not solve their problems as thirteen distinct units. Therefore, the delegates to that great constitutional convention knew that two requisites were necessary to constitute a Federal Government. Each member state must be wholly independent respecting those matters which concerned the member only, and all must be subject to a common power with respect to those matters which were of collective interest. Thus, for example, the office of President and the qualifications for that office, the creation of the Senate and the House of Representatives and the qualifications of the members, the making of peace and war, the coining of money, and the sending and reception of ambassadors, were all matters which must come within the sphere of the Federal Government.

In addition to the bare statement of the theory of the separation of powers between state and national government, we have the expert opinions of noted jurists. Judge Story said in his commentaries on the Constitution: "They (states) have just as much right, and no more, to prescribe new qualifications for a Representative as they have for a President. Each is an officer of the Union, deriving his powers and qualifications from the Constitution, and neither created by, dependent upon, nor controllable by the states. It is no original prerogative of state power to appoint a Representative, a Senator, or President of the Union." Mr. Kent, another able jurist, in his Commentaries says that the objections to the existing power on the part of the individual states to superadd to or vary the qualifications prescribed for Representatives by the Constitution of the United States appear to be too palpable and weighty to admit of any discussion." Judge Cooley, in his General Principles of Constitutional Law observes as follows: "The Constitution and laws of the United States determine what shall be the qualifications for federal officers, and state Constitutions, and laws can neither add to nor take away from them."

If governmental theory and the statements of unbiased authorities on law and government count for anything Judge Graess is eligible for the office of Representative. But his case is not by any means rest upon that evidence alone. As a matter of fact, while the question in the concrete is new in this part of Wisconsin, it is not new to the courts. THE STATE OF WASHINGTON BY ITS SUPREME COURT ANSWERED THE IDENTICAL QUESTION WHICH HAS BEEN RAISED CONCERNING JUDGE GRAESS. So similar is the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin to the Constitution of the State of Washington concerning the point involved that one might very well have been a copy of the other. Article IV, section 15, of the Constitution of Washington provides that Judges of the Supreme Court and of the Superior Court shall be ineligible to any other office or employment during the term for which they shall have been elected.

Judge Webster in the State of Washington was a member of the Supreme Court of that state, his term expiring in January, 1921. In May, 1918, he resigned his position on the bench and became a candidate for the office of Representative in Congress. It was contended that he was ineligible to hold the office he sought because of the above-mentioned provision in the state constitution, and an attempt was made to enjoin the printing of his name on the ballot for the primary election. The case was taken to the Supreme Court of Washington where it was held that the provision if the Constitution making judges of the Supreme Court or the Superior Court ineligible for any other office during the term for which elected did not apply to membership in either house of Congress. The Court, speaking through Mr. Justice Mackintosh, said: "For offices created by the state, the state by its Constitution and statutes may provide such qualifications and restriction as it deems proper; but for offices created under other authority we must look to the creating authority for all qualifications and restrictions." (State vs. Howell, Supreme Court of Washington, October 16, 1918. 175 Pacific 569.)

Nor is this the only authority, convincing as it is. The Constitution of Illinois (Const. 1848, Article V, Section 10) provided that judges should not be eligible for any office "in this state or the United States during the terms for which they are elected, nor for one year thereafter. In 1856 Judge Marshall was elected from Illinois to the House of Representatives, and Judge Trumbull was elected by the Legislature of Illinois to the United States senate. Both the House and the Senate, in giving their decisions upon these two cases, declared the Illinois Constitution null and void in so far as it attempted to add qualifications to those provided in the Federal Constitution. The State of Kansas had a provision in its Constitution similar to that in the Illinois Constitution, and in 1884 Judge Peters was elected to the House of Representatives from that state. The House of Representatives, in keeping with the former decision, declared void that part of the Kansas Constitution which attempted to provide qualifications for members of the House of Representatives. To the same effect, namely, that a state legislature cannot add anything to the qualifications of members of congress as prescribed by the Constitution stands the decision of the Supreme Court of Ohio. (State vs. Russell, 8 Ohio N. P. 54.)

What is the conclusion to which we must come? It is this: That the expression, "office of public trust," in the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin and in the Statute of Wisconsin refers only to the offices over which the State has jurisdiction, viz., state offices, and not to the offices created by the government of the United States. Those who argue to the contrary must repudiate the decisions of both the House of Representatives and the Senate of the United States, must entirely ignore the reasoning and the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, and the Supreme Court of the State of Ohio, must obliterate the distinctions between state power and federal power, and must relegate to the junk heap the work of our fathers, when, according to Gladstone, they penned the most wonderful instrument ever struck off by the hand and brain of man.

Therefore, if Judge Graess has those qualifications prescribed by the Constitution of the United States—and no one has said he does not possess them—his eligibility is not in the least interfered with by the Constitution and Statutes of Wisconsin.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

IT SEEMS TOO EARLY TO DISCUSS A SECOND TERM

The statement by Attorney General Daugherty that President Harding had decided to eliminate himself from consideration as a candidate for renomination attracted considerable editorial attention because of the close relationship between the two men. In some quarters it was assumed that the announcement really was directed at Governor Miller of New York and other potential presidential timber whose friends have been sounding their praises as possibilities. But, generally, it was agreed that there was no need to consider the Harding plans and aspirations, or lack of them, at this time.

"Any man serving his first term in the Presidency," we suspect, has his moments of depression when he longs to be well out of it," argues the Columbus, O., STATE JOURNAL (Rep.). "The burdens are terrible, the discouragements are grinding. The trials of the office are crushing but the honor and the power are great and he would be a rare man, indeed, who, having attained the Presidency, would voluntarily lay it aside. President Harding's health seems to be standing the strain well and he probably knows that most of the fiercest denunciations of his administration are not aimed at him personally but at Congress and its unseemly and certainly unfair gossip about his retirement." The editorial discussion is dismissed by the Birmingham, N. Y., PRESS (Ind.), a "just politics. It is the established usage that an American President shall be renominated to succeed himself. One term of Hayes, and one term of Arthur, were enough; they are the only exceptions. Even the good natured Taft had the steam roller dragged out for his benefit. For the Old Guard to side-track Harding at the end of his first term would be taken by the Democrats as an admission of failure, and no one now is making any serious impression in talking of Harding as a failure." Heading its discussion of the various denials "Barkis Harding willing; may flow over to League," the Knoxville, TENN., (Ind.) Dem., discusses at length the Washington POSTS "absurd" characterization of the report that Mr. Harding would not be a candidate. The SENTINEL quotes primary victories and the campaigns of La Follette, Frazier, Brookhart, Pinchot et al as indicating repudiation of Harding and the Harding policies and then insists that "at the rate of progress the Republican party will not wait for 1924 to repudiate the president, and the matter of being a candidate to succeed himself will not be for him to choose and decide." The SENTINEL then gives its reasons why it considers the "administration to be in a mind to 'steal' the 'taboo' League of Nations issue."

There cannot be any lengthy delay in Mr. Harding making up his mind as to his plans, the Charleston, S. C., POST (Ind. Dem.), however insists, because "in not more than twenty months Mr. Harding will have to make up his mind whether he wants another term. The unauthorized reports that he does not have already served their purpose in bringing the question into the open, and thereby promoting a decision Mr. Harding is no glutton for fame and he may very well conclude that he has enough of greatness and long for some fun with his friends." It is because the "Republican leadership" reports may work injury to the party in the coming election that Attorney Daugherty is coming forward with a denial at this time, the Roanoke, Va., TIMES (Dem.) holds. Daugherty has said about all that could be said on the subject now. It may be safely taken for granted despite the lack of anything explicit on the subject, that the President will be in the field two years hence and will be nominated by his party. As to whether he will be elected—well, that is a horse of another color."

HOW ENGLAND REGARDS DRY ORDER

London—Editorially discussing the "dry ship" situation the Express said: "No, Christopher Columbus did not discover America. It was often discovered before, but it was always hushed up. The United States apparently desire forgetfulness once more. Mr. Harding, the President, has now issued an order which no ship, whatever its nationality may be, can enter territorial waters of the United States carrying intoxicating liquor of any category, whether it be held in bond or not. There is apparently some legal right for this ruling, but it is not in accordance with the custom, the rules of which usually dominate international communication.

The result will be curious. The habits of English shipping cannot be resolved by American Presidents, unless they lead to definite evil. It is, therefore, probable that the passenger ships of England will in the near future end their cross-Atlantic service at Halifax, Nova Scotia to the exclusion of New York. In which case, any idea of helping American steamship companies, now suffering from dryness of their atmosphere must go by the board. President Harding will have cut off America's nose to spite its face.

Because it was "sentiment and not politics" that led the President to purchase his family's old farm property at Blooming Grove, Ohio, the Milwaukee, WIS., SENTINEL (Rep.), holds that it was unfair to ascribe an intention of retiring to that simple transaction and suggests, further, "possibly the President has made up his mind to retire. More likely, he does not care to cross any bridges until he comes to them. But it shows that a President must be careful about dabbling in real estate." The Des Moines REGISTER (Ind. Rep.), feels that the "President made his fundamental mistake when he allowed himself to be misled by the apparent reaction from Wilson. Secretary Hughes made a much more previous mistake. They both caught at the apparent repudiation of Wilson as a repudiation of the Wilson program. Events have

Womans Club Opens Its Annual Membership and Finance Drive Thursday

Budget Of $10,000 Is Required To Carry On Club's Work During The Year—Members Earn Part Of Expenses

With the opening of the stores and business offices on Thursday morning members of Appleton Womens club will start out for $10,000 with which to carry on the activities of the club for the next year. A pep meeting and rally supper will be held at the clubroom on Wednesday evening to start the campaign which will continue the remainder of the week.

Members of the finance committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. James Wood have chosen their workers for the campaign, which will include a solicitation in all the business and manufacturing districts as well as from members of the club. Last year the same budget was the aim of the campaign, but not half of it was given to defray the expenses of the club, which has been doing splendid work with girls and young people in Appleton.

EARN PART OF WAY
The financial report of the treasurer for last year shows that the various departments and stunt divisions of the club earned as much money as was given in the campaign for that year. Few people realize how nearly self supporting all the activities of the club are or that the Appleton Womens club is probably the most enterprising, democratic and helpful club in the United States.

Its membership is kept at $1 a year so that every woman in Appleton may join if she wishes. No woman has ever been kept out of the club by the vote of other members, a record which few organizations of any kind can show. Women who can afford higher dues are asked to give what they can in the campaign for funds, but no woman who cannot afford a donation is expected to give more than her membership fee.

If it were not for the recreation department of the club, which necessitates considerable expense besides the salaries of two paid directors, the club would be self supporting from the membership fees and the amount of money raised by the women themselves. The club is divided into groups of women which put on money making programs of one description or rather each month. Besides this the club undertakes two or three other money making activities during the year to swell the treasury.

WORK LONG HOURS
Few workers even social workers who are famously self sacrificing, would be enthusiastic about long hours programs of work such as the recreation directors of Appleton Womens club have. If the club could afford more than two directors, more work could be done, but as it is, the two do an enormous amount of recreational directing during each week. Many smaller organizations in the city are able to maintain more roomy and convenient clubrooms than the one room, which has housed Appleton Womens club since its beginning. Perhaps there has never been a room in the city of Appleton which has more meetings per week and more sessions per day than the clubroom.

When the women go out for money they are not asking for donations but selling the club to the prospective customer. The primary reason for the success of the club, according to those who have watched its growth in the city, is that the women themselves are so completely sold to the idea of the service which they can render the young people of the city and therefore the city because better citizens make better cities.

The women who are going to work in the campaign groups are: Mrs. James Wood, general chairman; Mrs. Mabel Shannon, chairman; Mrs. E. E. Sugerman, Mrs. E. C. Hilfert, Mrs. A. H. Wickesberg, Mrs. R. H. Purdy, Mrs. H. Heckert, Mrs. F. E. Orblison, Mrs. R. S. Powell, Mrs. T. E. Orblison, Mrs. L. C. Sleeper, Mrs. J. L. Johns, Mrs. S. C. Roelush.

SMALLER SCHOOLS ARE IGNORED BY ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Large High Schools Refuse To Schedule Games With Small Neighbors

Kaukauna—Officials of the small high school, at least those of Kaukauna high school, are not in sympathy with the plans of the larger schools in forming a basketball league which will practically exclude the small schools from participation in games which will lead to the state tournament. Such an organization was perfected sometime ago at a meeting of high school officials in Sheboygan.

The wishes of the small schools were said to be disregarded and the organization planned a schedule for the coming season without consultation with its smaller neighbors. Kaukauna high was one of the few schools of smaller enrollment which was fortunate in securing the consideration of the association to the extent that she was placed on the schedule with one game. It is quite probable, however, that the schedule will be disregarded by the local school.

In the opinion of Leo G. Schussman principal, the larger schools have banded together to prevent the possibility of their being defeated by a better team from a small school. The occasion is rare, but it happens once in a while, Mr. Schussman believes.

William Waterpool, athletic coach in the high school, believes that the larger schools represented in it, it is the schools whose enrollment prevents them from turning out a team to compete with their large neighbors that will suffer he believes. It is plainly a case of an attempt to freeze the "little fellows" out of interscholastic basketball and athletics of every kind and leaves them to pick up games where they can, Mr. Waterpool said.

"I suppose we should feel flattered that we were granted a game on the schedule played on our own floor besides," said the coach. "However, we received no word or notice that such an organization was to be formed and knew nothing of it until it was announced in the papers. We probably will proceed with our schedule as best we can, disregarding the game entirely."

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mento-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mento-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mento-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

DOZENS OF NEW MEMBERS VISIT 'Y' RECEPTION

Interesting Program Is Offered To Introduce Building To Members

The annual members' reception at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening was characterized by a large attendance of new members, some of whom visited the institution for the first time. Notwithstanding counter attractions the building was filled with members and their friends. The program was so arranged that several interesting features were in progress at one time.

The reception committee consisted of division chairmen, captains and team workers of the recent membership campaign. It was stationed in the lobby where an orchestra entertained things generally. New members and their friends were shown through the building and lingered wherever they found the greatest attraction.

A bowling tournament between teams representing Appleton Wire Works and Interlake Pup and Paper Co. was staged early in the evening and was won by the former team by 233 pins. The total scores were 2277 and 2054. The scores by games were Wire Works, 719, 828 and 730; Interlake, 670, 687 and 697. The highest individual score was made by H. Strutz of the Wire Works team who bowled 182, 192 and 212.

While the bowling tournament was in progress in the basement a fast game of volleyball was played in the gymnasium between teams consisting of Herman C. Getschow, captain, Cyril Kronschnabel, Guy Barlow, Alfred Bradford and H. P. Buck, and C. O. Gochbauer, captain. Silas Krewger, Eugene Colvin, the Rev. F. C. Reuter, John Neller and R. W. Getschow. Getschow's team won the first game, 15 to 13, and Gochbauer's team the other two 15 to 7 and 15 to 12.

A basketball game between the Interlakes and Y. M. C. A. dormitory men was won by the latter by a score of 21 to 28. Exhibitions of billiards and pool in the basement and an aquatic exhibition in the swimming pool were among other attractions.

The latter part of the program was featured by a short address, "The Y. M. C. A. a World Brotherhood," by Judson G. Rosebush. Mr. Rosebush told of Y. M. C. A. work and influence in foreign countries. He said if the world is to be saved it is more apt to be through the churches and this organization than through any other source.

Mr. Rosebush mentioned briefly the six summer schools carried on by the Y. M. C. A. in the United States, one of which is located at Lake Geneva, Wis., and of the Y. M. C. A. workers from all over the world he had met while visiting these schools. Many of these workers in foreign fields expressed surprise that the United States did not join the league of nations, but the speaker said he informed them the country could be of greater service to the world by not being involved in set rules.

E. J. Harwood, president of the local organization, presided and introduced the speaker. He extended a hearty welcome to members, especially new ones, and wanted them to feel they owned the building. George P. Werner, general secretary, congratulated old members on renewing their membership and advised new members to take their membership cards with them when traveling as the cards entitled the bearers to many privileges all over the world. Coffee and doughnuts were served by Anna M. Latscher, cafeteria director, at the conclusion of the talks.

City Officers Turn Deaf Ear To Neighborhood Row

Vine-st Residents Up In Arms Over Usurpation Of Scavenger's Job

A little group of Vine-st residents, led by Mrs. Anton Kolitsch, is clamoring determinedly for justice in matters pertaining to sewers and sanitation, whereas city officials are just as determined not to meddle in the case.

The trouble is said to have started with the disposal of surplus dirt from a newly laid sewer by a person after it had been promised by the city engineer to the residents of the street, according to Mrs. Kolitsch. The sewer itself, it is said, was not laid according to the specifications and was dug in the side of the street instead of the center.

O. F. Weissgerber, when approached, refused to be quoted in the matter, merely stating that the affair was a "neighborhood row" and that he did not propose to get "mixed up in it."

After the sewer was completed and residents had begun removing their outhouses and installing water service, protest was raised by some of the neighbors against what appears to have been a usurpation of the scavenger's duties. The question was also raised if the work was done before the legitimate hour. The deputy health officer, Mrs. Kolitsch declares, refused to act in the matter.

Dr. W. C. Felton, health commissioner, said he was satisfied that the regulations of the health department had been complied with and that there was nothing for the health department to do.

Vine-st residents, as a last resort, appeared at the last council meeting prepared to present their case to the city fathers after an alderman, it is said, turned a deaf ear to their complaints. The people were not given a chance to be heard, because at the psychological moment a wink and a motion brought the meeting of that honorable body to an abrupt close, Mrs. Kolitsch said.

"No such thing occurred," said E. L. Williams, city clerk. "If the parties desired a hearing, they could have presented a written request." The one person who has consented to anything at all, according to Mrs. Kolitsch, is the chairman of the street and bridge committee. He has promised an investigation in the matter of the sewer and specifications, it is said.

How to Be Rid of Dangerous Dandruff

If you have dandruff you must get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely destroy your hair if you don't.

Dandruffy heads mean faded, brittle, gray, scraggly hair that will not grow—then you are bald and nothing can help you.

The only sure way to abolish dandruff for good is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly, surely, and safely there is nothing as effective as Parisian sage, which you can get at any good druggists such as Schmitz Bros. Drug Co., who guarantee it to keep away all dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, and stimulate a new growth, or the cost, small as it is, will be refunded.

Parisian sage is a scientific preparation that supplies all hair needs—an antiseptic liquid, neither sticky or greasy, easy to use, and daintily perfumed.

PEOPLE'S FORUM OPENS SEASON AT CHAPEL ON SUNDAY

Dr. Immanuel Sternheim, Noted Rabbi, Will Be First Speaker Of Year

The Community Forum program will begin on Sunday evening at Lawrence Memorial chapel with Dr. Emmanuel Sternheim, noted Jewish rabbi and lecturer as its first speaker. Dr. Sternheim, who has had a great deal of religious and social service experience, talks on a number of interesting subjects and is one of the most brilliant men who have been asked to speak on the program.

The Forum program this year presents a number of men, prominent in various religious circles rather than those interested in political and civics subjects. Since the forum takes the place of Sunday evening services in several of the churches, the suggestion was made last year that the program be given by men who are active in church affairs. The cost of the program this year is considerably higher than it was last and those in charge are anxious that large numbers of people attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Burmeister and Mrs. Andrew Ries and daughter, Marguerite spent the weekend in Wausau where they visited relatives. Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hahn and family of Chilton, moved to Center on Saturday.

ACTION NEEDED TO SAVE LAKES STATION

Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the chamber of commerce, is in receipt of a letter from D. L. Goodwillie of Chicago, chairman of a committee of one hundred on the Great Lakes naval training station, in which the writer said at a meeting of more than 60 men of affairs it was decided that immediate action must be taken to insure the continuance of this training station and its maintenance on a prewar basis.

Mr. Goodwillie said the committee was to be made up not only of Chicago men but men throughout the middle west who were interested in the maintenance of the station and he appealed to Mr. Corbett for his cooperation in sending him the names and addresses of five men from Fox River valley whom he could recommend.

HOG CHOLERA HITS NEENAH DISTRICT

Oshkosh-Winnipeg-co is facing a serious loss through a comparatively widespread epidemic of hog cholera. Already a loss of several thousand dollars has been entailed and reports from different parts of the county indicate the disease has broken out in more than one locality, although the source and center of the disease seems to be in the northern part of the county, near Neenah. Dr. Larzerlore of Madison, assistant to Dr. J. T. Purcel of the federal department of agriculture, arrived Sunday and went directly to Neenah. He visited a number of farms and found suspiciously well founded as to the nature of the disease. In one instance a farmer had a dozen hogs fattened and ready for market. All of them were stricken and died. No less than 15 different herds in the town of Neenah are known to have been visited by the disease. In the town of Omro, it is reported, several hogs have been ill and some have died. There is every reason to believe the cause was hog cholera.

BIG PRODUCTION OF EGGS TENDS TO KEEP PRICE DOWN

Storage Houses In Big Cities Anxious To Move Their Surpluses

At the close of business on Oct. 27 there were $49,000 cases more of eggs in storage in the four principal markets (Chicago, New York, Boston and Philadelphia) than on the corresponding date a year ago. During the month of September 600,000 cases more of eggs are said to have been sold than during the same month last year.

It seems most of the excess is in Chicago and from reports received outside the four principal markets it is believed that eastern storage points are not carrying any more eggs at this time than they did a year ago. However the eastern markets will receive eggs from the south which this part of the country will not be able to eat.

Eggs are 5 cents lower now than last year at this time. Storage eggs were selling at 42 cents, now they are about 37 cents. The lower price is probably due to the fact that eggs are much more plentiful and because of such a condition the storage points are anxious to remove their surplus. With the lower price there seems to be a greater demand and it is thought that eggs will sell rapidly enough through November and December to remove the surplus. If such is the case by Jan. 15 when the fresh eggs begin to arrive there will be a normal supply of eggs in storage.

The movement of eggs out of Chicago has been normal for the last few weeks, but it is probable the movement from houses far from east has been abnormally heavy. Holders of eggs at all points have been willing to meet market values and sell, which means the buyers do not go to Chicago for the supplies as long as satisfactory stock can be secured in nearby warehouses at Chicago prices.

At the present time there are few fresh eggs on the market, but the run of storage eggs has been so unusually good that lack of fresh eggs has not been felt. People may be assured of plenty of eggs throughout the year if there will be moderate weather after Jan. 15 when the hens will commence to lay.

RED CROSS CALL STARTS NOV. 11

Need Large Membership To Carry On Work Among War Veterans

Plans are being made in the state for the Red Cross roll call beginning on Armistice day and continuing until Thanksgiving. Each Red Cross chapter in the state is being urged to get as many members as possible so that the much needed work with service men may be carried on. While the government is offering help to the disabled men who were in service, many of them are unable to get it alone and others do not even know that it is being offered.

Through the efforts of Red Cross chapters the men in hospitals and those who are receiving government aid are increasing rather than decreasing. The Home Service department of the Red Cross still have much work to do with the service men and their work will continue until every possible needy soldier has been reached and helped.

MUST ACT NOW TO GET HELP FROM U. S.

The United States Veterans bureau wishes to give publicity to the fact that ex-service men and women must act at once if they wish to take advantage of the opportunity of obtaining government assistance.

According to a bulletin just released the time limit of the Sweet bill for disabled men and women filing claims for vocational training under government supervision is up Dec. 16, 1922. It is important that every disabled soldier who has not made formal application for vocational training should do so before that date.

Thousands of disabled men throughout the country have taken advantage of the government, says the bulletin. The courses vary from one to four years and all trainees are placed at work upon completion of training.

The employment opportunities for disabled men far exceed the number of men available who have finished the courses in the various trades and professions.

CITY PEOPLE PAY BULK OF STATE TAX

TRIES TO FOOL JUDGE AND GETS STIFFER FINE

Robert Zochert of Readfield is in the county jail waiting for somebody to bail him out or hoping for the judge to lessen the fine that was imposed upon him for driving without a license and without a registered application for one.

He was seen driving without a license Saturday. When he appeared in municipal court Monday morning he started out to prove that he had taken out a money order toward payment of a license before he was apprehended in Appleton. He said he had not been home. The fact that he wore another suit of clothes induced the court to discredit the statement and fine the man $25 and costs instead of the customary fine of $10.

The man had only $20 on his person. The alternative is 30 days in the workhouse.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups and saves about 10¢. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded. # Lack Of Funds Couldn't Keep These Boys Away

Bound that lack of money or means of conveyance should not hinder their witnessing the Marinette Appleton football game Saturday, seven young high school students from the northern city beat their way here via the "side door Pullman" and applied for lodging in the city bustle Friday night.

Chief George T. Prim happened to be out of roomers at the time and was about to tick up a shingle. But, as luck had it, two of the boys sent out to spy the land and test the good nature of the police force strolled in and loitered. Marking the success of the pioneers the others followed in similar groups.

The football enthusiasts spent a good night and the following morning they began to test out some of their football songs and cheers fairly making the walls of their cells rattle.

That some of the Marinette rooters were left behind but managed to get to the park to see most of the game was noted when several more young men blackened with soot leaped off a freight train that was passing the football field and jumped over the fence, crying "Who's ahead?"

If the farmer who last week was hauling cabbage to the market had dropped a quarter on the way, it is safe bet that he would have stopped to pick it up. He didn't drop a quarter. He dropped 30 heads of cabbage instead. Another frugal farmer of Grand Chute happened along and picked up every head. Since a pound of cabbage according to the market price of $4 a ton is worth about one-fifth of a cent and since the average head of cabbage weighs about four pounds, the thrifty farmer who picked up the thirty heads saved about 24 cents. ## ROBBINS HAS HAD HIS FINGER INTO ALL KINDS OF PIES

Community Artist Series Speaker Has Led An Interesting Life

If a man has done all the things that Raymond Robbins has done and then is not the most interesting person you ever heard of on the lecture platform, he certainly should not be rated as a great man. It is that faculty of being an interesting personality that makes Raymond Robbins the social service and political power that he is.

Just a list of the things which he has done will show the number of interests with which he is able to link up. He has been a newsboy in the city streets and a cashboy in a department store, a farmer boy on a Florida plantation and orange grove, a deputy postmaster and clerk in a general store, a prospector and miner, a clerk in a law office and student of law, a gold miner in the Klondike, a civil engineer, a worker in Alaska, a city worker in the Chicago settlements, an investigator of unemployment and superintendent of Chicago Municipal Lodging house, a member of the Chicago Board of Education and Chicago Charter convention, an industrial expert and strike arbiter, a social service expert for the Men and Religion Forward Movement, a founder of the Progressive party and its candidate for the United States senate from Illinois, a social service missionary to Canadian provinces and a member of the party which took the world tour with Fred B. Smith, chairman of the Illinois Progressive state committee, temporary and permanent chairman of the last Progressive National convention, leader of social evangelistic student campaign in college and universities of North America, lieutenant colonel of the United States army, commanding the American Red Cross mission in Russia and special official representative of the American government for communication with officials of Soviet government in Russia, 1917-18, member of the executive committee of the National Republic, an committee presidential campaign in 1920. Other important positions have also been held.

GROWN UP KIDS HAD BETTER BE ON THEIR GUARD

Police Determine To Prevent Property Destruction Tonight

Halloween pranks played by little children are never so harmful as those perpetrated by "grown-up kids," according to George T. Prim, chief of police, and police vigilance will be concentrated on the activities of the latter, he announced Tuesday on the eve of Halloween.

When police see little folks scampering about gleefully in the attire of "spooks," and armed with beans, rat ters, horns and jack-o-lanterns, they are more than likely to let them enjoy their fun, remembering that they were boys once.

But the tipping over of small buildings, removal of porch steps, breaking of windows, etc., in short, anything in the nature of destruction of property will not be tolerated. Property damage is in violation of the law regardless of whether it is perpetrated on Halloween, and all steps will be taken to protect the home and other property of residents and to prosecute the offenders, the chief declared. An extra force of police officers will be on guard to see that the law is enforced.

"One of the pranks usually regarded as harmless," said the chief, "is the soaping of windows. But this practice not only puts the owners to great inconvenience, but often subjects them to much humiliation, besides marring the plate glass windows. Most soap rubbed on the plate glass windows usually leaves a scratch that cannot be effaced."

STUDY BALLOT IS ADVICE TO VOTERS

With election day only a week off, voters are beginning to show a keener interest in the contests. The Post-Crescent today is printing a facsimile of the ballot which will be used next Tuesday. It is suggested that this ballot be cut out of the paper and preserved for home study.

Noted men have said that this government can be a success only if every voter votes intelligently and intelligently voting involves study. If Appleton voters will study the ballot before they go to the polls the election will represent their wishes.

Election officials Monday were notified that one may vote in the independent column by placing a mark after the independent candidate's name even after he has placed his cross at the head of any of the party tickets.

LEGION PREPARES FOR ARMISTICE DAY

The Ladies auxiliary of the American legion has been invited to attend the monthly legion meeting in Elk hall Monday evening. Preparations will be made at that time for the Armistice day banquet which will be held in Elk hall on the evening of Nov. 11. Attorney J. P. Frank is to be the principal speaker.

YOUNG MOTHER NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faithin Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound led Her to Try it

Kenosha, Wisconsin.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else had done that I advise all women with female trouble to give it a fair trial and I am sure they will feel as I do about it.—Mrs. FRED. P. HANSEN, 562 Symonds St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration.

If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles. The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors—they know its worth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

Dandy Roll Plant Only One Of Its Kind In West

J. J. Plank Company Has Developed From Very Modest Beginning

Among the younger industries in Appleton there is one which although not having attained the proportions of other plants treated in this series on the romance of business, is never theless unique.

It is to be doubted if there is another manufacturing concern in this city that enjoys the distinction of being the only one of its kind in the west. J. J. Plank company of Appleton, is not only the lone exclusive dandy roll making establishment in the states west of the Great Lakes, but enjoys practically the entire paper mill trade of the central western states.

Yet when J. J. Plank the proprietor, assumed the manufacture of the rolls with which the water marking of the bond, ledger and writing paper is done, he started on a "sneaking" basis.

He had acquired his training for this work in the dandy roll department of the old Appleton Screen Plate company, now out of existence, in which he began work more than 20 years ago and later was placed in charge of that department.

STARTS IN 2 ROOMS
He rented two rooms of the former Appleton Paper Box factory on the Northwestern railway off Superior st. This was in November 1903. Space and equipment although serving immediate needs, fell much short of the present. Mr. Plank had in his employ two persons. A girl was occupied in fabricating the tiny copper wire letters with which the transparent trademark or firm names of paper manufacturers are printed on the writing paper. One man, Albert Schultz, who is still in his employ today, was engaged in making the wire trussers for the rolls. Mr. Plank himself did the designing and occupied himself with general work.

The first job was an order of the Flambeau Paper company of Park Falls, Wis., to recover a plain roll unlettered. The beginners had an opportunity to display their skill in their first letter watermarking job which was given them by the Fox River Paper company.

The first truss, made for the Island Paper company at Menasha, is still in use. Crowded conditions and expanding trade induced the proprietor to build a larger plant on Clark st. It is a two-story structure measuring about 28 by 88 feet. The trusses are made on the first floor and the finishing of the rolls is done on the second.

Instead of 2 thirteen are now normally employed. The output of the for the trade. The output of the factory has grown to about five times the original amount. It serves the demands of all the paper manufacturers in Wisconsin and Minnesota, practically all of those in Ohio and a large number in Michigan, besides shipping goods to Russia, Australia and Japan.

The years of expansion have also witnessed several changes in the methods of manufacture. At the out set the copper wire letters were sewed on the wire cloth, whereas they are now soldered on, which is a speedier process. Years of skill enables the employees, who have been with the company almost from the start, to turn out the letters nimbly and with great speed. The lettering and the making of the elaborate trade marks is all done by hand.

Workers in the campaign to raise $4,600 for the Salvation Army have been much encouraged by late subscriptions to the fund, it was reported Tuesday. While the drive officially ends on Oct. 31, it will be continued here for a short time longer at least.
One of the most pleasing incidents of the campaign was the offer of employees of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. to turn in their overtime money to the fund. This action was taken entirely without solicitation.
Campaign workers are receiving contributions through the mails but there still are a large number of people who have not assisted in the work. Leaders in the drive are hopeful that the county's quota will be raised in a short time. Checks should be mailed to W. G. Commentz, at the Helinger Lumber Co.
